

Induction and Mentoring: Teachers Helping Teachers

Name: Mentor Training: Induction for the 21st Century Educator

Purpose:

- To increase mentor understanding of new teacher professional development.
- Learn strategies for working with new teachers to promote effective instructional practices
- new teachers

Contact Person: Anne Pierce, Staff Development Specialist
(618) 687-7290

Trainers: Jacqueline Siefert & Imajean Snell

Services:

The Regional Office of Education #30 offers this two-day program for mentors. Participants will receive training that will assist them in mentoring beginning teachers. Our coaches have been trained over the past years in a statewide model for induction and mentoring. This training will not only be helpful to new teachers on a campus but will also allow mentor teachers to polish their teaching skills.

Training is provided on cost recovery basis.

Advantages to mentors:

- Opportunities to network with other mentors
- Research based practices and strategies
- Opportunity to polish your own skills

